2420 Blueberry Lane, Ann Arbor

2420 Blueberry Lane was a unique home with its own style and character even before Build and Rebuild began work on it. However there were two issues the owners did not like, the front entry was small and tight and the detached garage made rain and snow even more of a nuisance. Build and Rebuild addressed these issues by connecting the garage and home with a grand entryway (for both homeowner and guests). A covered porch with cedar and stone veneer invites guests into the home. The connection from the expanded garage to the home not only keeps the cold out but also offers built in cubbies and a marvelous tongue and groove ceiling. Now the entry into the home matches the unique nature of the home.
