2015 Devonshire Road, Ann Arbor

This Ann Arbor Hills home offered sufficient layout and functionality, but needed a design overhaul to modernize and better reflect our client's taste and style.

The kitchen was entirely redesigned and remodeled with bespoke cabinetry, including a custom designed range wall that takes cues from the existing arches found throughout the home. Sophisticated lighting fixtures, handmade finishes, and a combination of new and vintage furnishings finish the space. The attached butler's pantry was refreshed with a moody wallcovering, tile backsplash and new quartzite countertops. Upstairs, the primary bathroom remodel boasts new heated limestone floors, custom vanity, handmade tile shower surround, and boutique wallcovering.

The finished spaces feel updated and fresh while staying true to the existing home's architecture.
